Public Consultation of Population and Housing Census (PHC) 2016

In preparation for the next Census of Population and Housing (PHC) 2016, the Division of Census, Survey and Demography, held its first Public Consultation on the 12th May 2016 at the TATTE Conference Room. The public consultation aimed at reviewing the draft PHC 2016 list of questions which will be asked to all households in Samoa in November and to collect recommendations and feedbacks that will assist the Census division in finalising of all the data needs which will be presented on the questionnaire.

The public consultation was officially opened with a prayer by Reverend Taumafai Komiti and the welcoming remarks by Government Statistician Afioaga Muagututia Sefuiva Reupena while the keynote address was delivered by the Associate Minister of the Ministry of the Prime Minister and Cabinet (MPMC), Afioaga Peseta Vaifou Tevagaena.

About eighty members from different Government ministries, Corporations and Non-government organisations (NGO's), were able to participate in this important process of the PHC2016.

The Assistant Chief Executive Officer (ACEO) of the Census division, Susuga Aliimuamua Malae-fono Tauā Taaloga presented an overview of the new 2016 PHC Questionnaire. Afterwards the participants were divided into 6 groups for review of each section of the questionnaire. The Census staffs facilitated the discussions in each group. At the end of the two hours reviews, all teams presented constructive feedbacks and comments on each section of the questionnaire.

The consultation was officially closed by Aliimuamua Malae-fono, expressing gratitude for everyone's participation and contribution which made the Census of 2016 1st public consultation a very successful one.

Workshop on Evidence-based Policies on Youth Development in the Pacific

The Commonwealth Secretariat, in collaboration with the United Nations Department of Economic and Social Affairs (UNDESA) and the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) conducted a workshop on "Evidence-based Policies on Youth Development in the Pacific" in Nadi Fiji from the 13th – 16th of June 2016. It was aimed at policy makers and civil society representatives, especially those working on youth issues or in youth-led organizations. It provided a forum for the exchange of experiences and substantive knowledge on youth policies, mainstreaming youth in sectoral policies and application of youth development indicators. The objective was to strengthen the capacity of participants to monitor and review policies on, and relevant to, young people at national and local levels, using various indicators and methodologies conducive to youth participation and empowerment. The workshop also examined the issues and challenges related to monitoring youth indicators in the region; explored strategies to enhance the collection and analysis of youth data; identified resources to equip National Statistics Offices (NSOs) and made recommendations to embed evidence based youth policy principles into national statistical processes.

The workshop was considered to be a successful one with increased regional commitment to youth after the agreements made at the Pacific Commonwealth Youth Ministers Meeting held here in Samoa in 2015, as well as the World Programme of Action for Youth, the S.A.M.O.A Pathway (Small Island Development States Accelerated Modalities of Action) and the 2030 agenda for Sustainable Development, specifically its objective to leave no person behind.

Mr Tanielu Tagimaiala Isara (Principal Statistician – Social Statistics Division) represented SBS at the workshop. He was also invited to present on the current status of Samoa's SDG Profile and how youth policies can be
